General Notes

Disclaimer: The information below is subject to change without any notice and is for informative purposes only. RYI does not endorse any of the guest houses/hotels nor bear any responsibility/liability subsequently. It is up to individual students solely to decide for themselves whether these are appropriate for them or not.

* POWER:

Inverters give limited backup electric power (usually enough for one or two lights and a laptop, for example).

Generators usually give full-electric power but can be noisy. Some hotels with a generator will use it only at certain hours (usually to cover evening load shedding/power outages.)

* HOT WATER:

Solar hot water gives limited hot water but, during the winter months, this is usually only for a few hours in the afternoon.

Solar combined with electricity should give hot water in the afternoons and at night when there are no load shedding/power outages.

24-hour hot water should in theory give hot water all the time but be warned, even this may be unpredictable in some more modest guesthouses.

* RATES:

Prices, especially in the small guest houses, are subject to inflation or fluctuations (often on the whim of the staff member one makes the booking with) so the prices in this Guide cannot be guaranteed.

Taxes: Where the rates exclude the 13% VAT and the 10% service charge, these additions are cumulative (i.e., add the VAT first and then the service charge on top).

When making a booking, always ask for a discount, mention if you are studying at the White Gompa (RYI), or if you are staying for an extended period. There is usually no risk to asking questions, and many of these Hotels/Guest Houses will offer a discount.
